Eat at the Feedlot Restaurant- Help United Way of Mesa County Thursday, February 17th

As the annual fundraising drive starts to wind down, United Way of Mesa County is excited to announce the Feedlot Restaurant in Fruita will hold a “United Way Day” on Thursday, February 17th in which 10% of all sales will be donated to United Way of Mesa County ALL DAY LONG.

The Feedlot Restaurant, located at 456 Kokopelli Blvd in Fruita, is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner on Thursday from 8:30am – 9pm. Thursday night is also “WINGS NIGHT” featuring 2 for 1 wings, beer and well drinks.

“We are very excited that Russ and Tami Parker have selected United Way of Mesa County to invest 10% of their sales in local health and human service programs. Community-minded businesses like the Feedlot Restaurant are valued partners in our efforts to meet basic needs and increase self-sufficiency of Mesa County residents,” said Julie Hinkson, Executive Director of United Way of Mesa County.

To date, the United Way of Mesa County has raised $984,000 (82%) towards its $1.2 Million goal, which will fund many necessary local health and human service programs in Mesa County. Last year, over 50,000 Mesa County residents were touched by United Way of Mesa County funding through 55 local non-profit programs.

The annual campaign celebration will take place at the end of February, however, donations will be accepted for this funding year through March. If you are interested in making a direct donation to United Way of Mesa County to help reduce the gap and reach the goal, please contact 243-5364 or mail to P.O. Box 153, Grand Junction, CO 81502
